

What the Industry Is Saying about ACE*COMM

David Vranicar; CIO at Birch Telecom

“As a direct result of N*VISION®, we have been able to recognize real financial savings as well as increased billing integrity. N*VISION® is one of the most important pieces of our billing infrastructure.”

Shehab Nawawi; CEO of Giza Systems (ACE*COMM’s integration partner for Telecom Egypt’s country-wide collection and mediation project)

“TE understands that access to the most accurate and up-to-date data is essential to understanding all aspects of network performance. To deliver on their expectations, we selected ACE*COMM’s solutions because of their robust capabilities and experience in complex multi-vendor network environments.”

Gary D. Testa; Senior Vice-President, World- wide Sales and Marketing at Gluon

“We needed a powerful billing mediation solution that was capable of interfacing to the multitude of billing platforms and outsourced billing vendors that our customers use. We turned to ACE*COMM for their ability to provide an out-of-the box, standards-compliant solution that is flexible enough to address the next generation billing issues that we face with our customers.”

Don Dressler; Director of Revenue Management Practice for Fujitsu Consulting

“ACE*COMM’s mediation technology is providing immediate business value and a rapid return on the investment that service providers have in their networks.”

Eric J. Kaiser; Corporate Vice-President, SAIC

“ACE*COMM’s mediation and enterprise OSS technologies can deliver a rapid return on investment and significant business value for our customers. We are pleased to extend our relationship with ACE*COMM to include the reselling of Convergent Mediation™ and NetPlus® EOSS and to provide these capabilities to our customers.”

Michael Allen; Analyst, Vertigo Research

“Network mediation is one of the keys to revenue-generating service offerings now and in the future. ACE*COMM’s products offer experienced capability based on an extensive understanding of telecommunications networks.”

Ed Sturms; TRW PSRCP Program Director

“We rely on ACE*COMM’s Convergent Mediation™ solution to process event records across a distributed network of TETRA switches for (the 02 Airwave) service. This project will deliver the most modern communications service anywhere in the world for emergency services and the wider public safety community.”

Joseph Larizza; CIO and Executive Vice-President of Operations, Broadview Net- works

“We reviewed all the solutions available in the market, and ACE*COMM was the only one who could deliver a consistent perspective of our entire network for local, long distance and international traffic.”

Peter H. Burrowes; President & Director General of IUSACELL

“We are very pleased to select the ACE*COMM solution that will help increase our current platform to capture actionable data, and will allow us to continue bringing to our customers a first class service.”

Ultan Kelly; Marconi’s ServiceOn Management Marketing Director

“Operators are extending data networks in order to deploy an increased set of value-added services. We rely on ACE*COMM to deliver a carrier-class solution that guarantees the delivery of critical summarized billing information.”

Robert Segat; Vice President of Revenue Operations, Birch Telecom

“The Convergent Mediation™ platform provides us with a single-point of entry for all of our usage records, thereby providing us with the opportunity to better control our revenue stream. We selected ACE*COMM’s N*VISION® product after a thorough evaluation of some of the leading products on the market today.”

David Yao; General Manager of Product Busi- ness Development, Zoom Networks, China

“ACE*COMM provides the critical convergent mediation component for our customers, who are primarily in the wireless and next-generation networks market sectors.”
